Crazy Critter Lady

Kelsie Meister shares her healing process through caring for critters in a new book.

First Page:

1981 Perrysburg High School graduate Meister is a writer, a photographer, and a person who truly cares about her community. Her book is a testament to her love for animals and her commitment to helping those in need. With each page, she reminds us of the importance of compassion and empathy.

Page 2:

Join the Yfanie Spielman Fund at the linebacker Chris Spielman Gridiron Classic, Perrysburg High School, and Pohlmans. Our student-athletes that are injured or recovering will benefit from the funds raised.

Page 3:

I had to look twice when I saw the words "animal rescue" on the cover of my book. It was an incredible experience writing about my experiences with Macavity. Of course, it was also tough to write that we have an obligation to take care of our pets.

Page 4:

"I didn't go looking for a pet, but I found Macavity," said Meister. "He was a child sexual abuse survivor, and we have to take care of them."

Page 5:

"He was an incredible experience," said Meister. "I found a bird on the ground and decided to take care of it." Macavity lived for more than three months, and the book is a labor of love for Meister.

Page 6:

"I didn't go looking for a pet, but I found Macavity," said Meister. "He was a child sexual abuse survivor, and we have to take care of them."

Page 7:

"He was an incredible experience," said Meister. "I found a bird on the ground and decided to take care of it." Macavity lived for more than three months, and the book is a labor of love for Meister.

Page 8:

"I didn't go looking for a pet, but I found Macavity," said Meister. "He was a child sexual abuse survivor, and we have to take care of them."

Page 9:

"He was an incredible experience," said Meister. "I found a bird on the ground and decided to take care of it." Macavity lived for more than three months, and the book is a labor of love for Meister.

Page 10:

"I didn't go looking for a pet, but I found Macavity," said Meister. "He was a child sexual abuse survivor, and we have to take care of them."

Page 11:

"He was an incredible experience," said Meister. "I found a bird on the ground and decided to take care of it." Macavity lived for more than three months, and the book is a labor of love for Meister.

Page 12:

"I didn't go looking for a pet, but I found Macavity," said Meister. "He was a child sexual abuse survivor, and we have to take care of them."

Page 13:

"He was an incredible experience," said Meister. "I found a bird on the ground and decided to take care of it." Macavity lived for more than three months, and the book is a labor of love for Meister.